

SHIPPING BRIBE CASE RESUMED

Wilson's Brother-in-law Called To Explain Use of Funds

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Tucker R. Sands, former vice president of the Commercial National bank, Washington, today reiterated before the congressional committee investigating shipping board affairs that R. W. Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, had shared in a $40,000 payment to procure a shipping board contract for a shipbuilding concern.

Bolling, treasurer of the board, Lester Sisler, secretary, a Downey corporation representative named Cranor and he had shared in $15,000 of the $40,000, Sands said.

MONEY DISTRIBUTED.
The money was distributed as a result of the Providence engineering corporation's receipt of a contract for the construction of ten tugboats for the shipping board, Sands testified.

"You are prompted in making these statements by a spirit of blackmail or of holding these men up to public scorn?" Sands was asked. "No sir, no sir," Sands said, adding that he was "sorry they had been brought into it."

Sands declared that he had given the committee all the information in his possession and that he would produce the checks, cancelled now, by which he had distributed the money procured from discounting notes, received from Wallace Downey, of the Wallace Downey Shipbuilding corporation and head of the Providence Engineering corporation.

EXPLAINS DISCREPANCY.
Sands said the occasion for a visit to him in his hotel rooms in Washington by Mr. Bolling and Mr. Sisler was in connection with the tugboat contract.

"Do you know if they helped to get the contract?" Sands was asked. "I think they did," he replied, adding that they had never talked to him about it except that when he inquired "how it was coming along?" He was told "encouragingly."

Fifteen thousand dollars of the $40,000 never was distributed because he had never received it from Downey in explaining the discrepancy between the $15,000 he said was distributed and the $40,000 he said was intended to be distributed.

H. C. L. PRESSES ENGLISH BISHOPS

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(Correspondence)—High dignitaries of the English church are facing difficulties in making their official stipends meet the high cost of living.

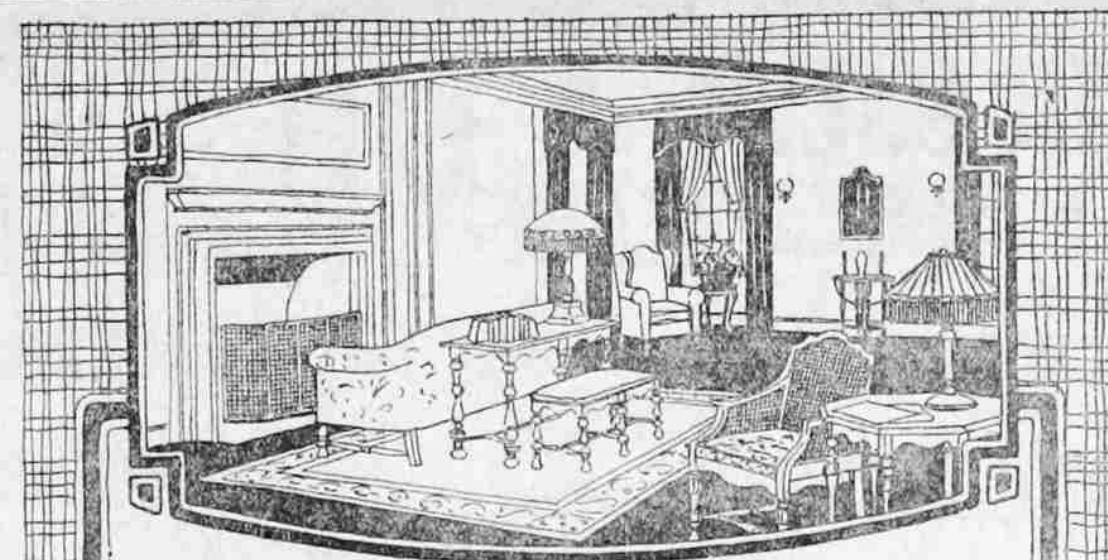

Dr. Winnington Ingram, the bishop of London, has leased his town mansion in St. James square and announces that he is quite prepared to give up Fulham palace, his magnificent official residence. The bishop's stipend is £10,000 a year. Being a man of simple habits, he does not spend £1,000 a year on himself, yet he is often heard to say that he is "worse off now than when he was a curate."

The archbishop of York and primate of England, Cosmo Gordon Lang, declares that it is quite impossible for him to maintain his home, Richmond palace, and entertain his clergy adequately on his official income of £9,000 a year, although he is a bachelor, says the Evening Standard.

The bishop of Winchester, with £6,500 annual income is in a similar plight. He has to maintain Farnham castle, the largest bishop's palace in this country, with a deer park, which is one of the sights of England.

The bishop of Lichfield definitely announces that he is about to change his palace for a small house. He states that, although the yearly income of his see is £4,200 the necessary official charges leave him only £1,200 for the upkeep of the palace, which really requires £2,000 per year.

STEAL OUTFIT.
TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 26.—A complete street cleaning outfit has been stolen from the city. This equipment was taken from one of the busiest corners of the downtown district where the man in charge was absent for a few minutes. Numerous persons saw the thief calmly walk away with the outfit.

"D. W. GRIFFITH" HONORS TEXAS CITY; SIGNS UP BEAUTIFUL BLOND AS STAR

(N. E. A. Staff Special.)
DALLAS—David "Work" Griffith came to Dallas last week, "worked" society queens and their husbands for free entertainment, danced with local debutantes, hired a beautiful blond salesgirl as his next movie star, and—

Went back to Atlanta, Ga., in custody of two Atlanta detectives, accused of having forged to $600 worth of checks in Georgia.

As he was registering at the Adolphus hotel an excited movie fan rushed up and exclaimed:

"You're D. W. Griffith!"
"Am I?" was the calm reply.

SEARCHING FOR BLOND.
"Griffith" then admitted he came to Dallas seeking a beautiful blond type for his next film production. The fan knew exactly the girl he wanted and led the "movie magnate" straight to the Edison shop, where Miss Ola Marguerite Kelley, 22, was employed.

Sure, Miss Kelley would sign. First year, $3500, did Mr. Griffith say? Double that every year until the fifth year, when she could name her own figures? Yes, perfectly satisfactory.

However, Miss Kelley's boss, C. H. Mansfield, noticed on the distinguished visitor's engraved card his second name was spelled "Work" and not "Griffith."

Meanwhile, "Griffith" had taken Miss Kelley to a department store, introduced himself to the proprietor and directed that Miss Kelley be given credit, to buy anything she wanted.

Miss Kelley not only got the credit, but the proprietor invited "Griffith" out to shoot ducks.

"Griffith" proved a charming man, and a dozen Dallas girls sent him their photos, asking if they had "movie faces."

After the "producer" had danced with the season's debutantes at the Terpsichorean club's ball and had dined at the most exclusive homes, Joe Luckett, who handles Griffith films in Dallas, did some impersonating himself. He impersonated a plumber, and inspected the stranger's room at the Adolphus.

"Not the real Dave," Luckett declared, and the cops closed in. Then "Griffith" admitted that his real name was J. P. Daley.

MORE BANKS CLOSED.
FARGO, N. D., Nov. 26.—Two more North Dakota banks closed their doors today as a result of depleted reserves bringing to fifteen the number of financial institutions that have shut down for similar reasons in the past two weeks.

Those that closed today are the Farmers' and Merchants' bank at Sherwood and the Farmers' State bank at Rhame.

EUROPEANS LIKE WORK ON COAST

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Large numbers of immigrants from Europe are going to California, according to W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe system. He said they are mostly aliens who returned to Europe to fight for their native countries.

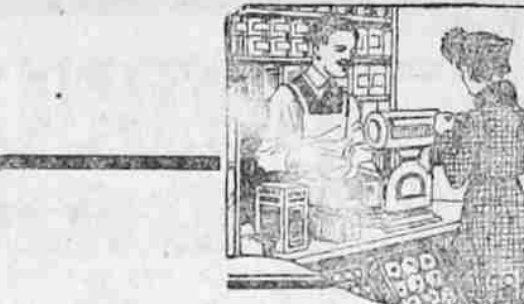

"The California bound immigrants are chiefly French, Italians and Greeks who are very good agriculturists and find in the vineyards and orchards of California the best opportunity for their abilities," Mr. Black said.

"Now that the war is over, most of them are coming back and they are furnishing California with the largest stream of immigration I think it has ever had. This has been going on some six months and increasing slowly. I believe they average between 600 and 750 a month."

The immigrant trains that used to be run to Chicago before the war have not been resumed, Mr. Black said. One reason he said was that there were not enough immigrants to justify them, and another reason was that the Pullman tourist car was taking their place.

From information gathered from railroad here it does not appear that many immigrants coming west are seeking farms. Some plans are being considered by roads, F. W. Halligan, assistant to the supervisor of agriculture of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, reported, for assisting immigrants with funds to locate on favorable lands in the northwest. It requires some money however, for the immigrant to establish himself on his own land, and the observation at several railroads is that as a general thing immigrants arriving here are not so "overly burdened."

The British railways employ 10,000 female clerks.

FOUR KINGS AND JOKERS CLASH WITH FIVE ACES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Whether four kings and the joker constitute a hand in poker that beats four aces was the point at issue in the grand larceny case against Manuel J. Fernandez, when it came up for preliminary hearing in the police court here recently.

The testimony indicated that Fernandez was sitting in a friendly game with Manuel Olmstead, who brought the present action against him and Benjamin Santos. The joker was "wild" and some lively tilts featured the play.

Finally Olmstead found himself holding a hand in which there were four aces and a queen. Fernandez opened the jack pot for $5 and Olmstead hoisted $10.

Fernandez raised and Olmstead then moved in with his entire working capital, $245 in all. "Four aces," he remarked, reaching for five chips.

"Four of 'em and the bug," Fernandez took the money and Olmstead called the police. At the first court hearing, Police Judge Sylvester McAtee postponed action until Hoyle's rules could be consulted.

ISOLATED MINES RECEIVE SUPPLIES BY AIRPLANE

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Nov. 26.—A test of the practicability of an airplane service to a circuit of mines in the region was made recently with satisfactory results. Starting from the Gilmore aviation field here a circuit of approximately 60 miles was covered in 51 minutes at a cost for fuel and oil of about $2.25.

The machine carried two men besides the pilot and it was stated that a load of 500 pounds could be carried with ease.

Mines isolated by distance and poor mountain roads often lose valuable time by being unable to secure supplies and breakage repairs promptly, and the project of an airplane service has been discussed for several months. In the test made some ten or twelve mining towns or mining camps were passed over.

WILL CASE ENDS.
SALEM, Mass., Nov. 26.—The will of Edward S. Sartles, millionaire reclusive of Methuen and New York, was allowed today after a brief hearing in the probate court. The proceedings included a reference to the terms of settlement by which Albert V. Sartles, of Boston, a nephew of the testator, who was given only $250,000 of the millions, disposed of by the will, abandoned his contest that was based on charges of fraud and incompetency.

Arthur T. Walker, of New York, who was named residuary legatee of the estate, testified as a witness to the will.
